

Annual Report 2014-15

Our Role

The Statistical Clearing House (SCH) works with Survey Managers to reduce the burden placed by the Commonwealth Government on business respondents by eliminating duplication and ensuring that the design and conduct of surveys are fit-for-purpose given the survey objectives. All surveys that are directed to 50 or more businesses and are conducted by, or on behalf of, a Commonwealth Government agency are subject to clearance by the SCH.

The SCH ensures that business surveys conducted by the Commonwealth Government follow sound statistical methodologies and practices. We do this by reviewing, and advising on, the following areas of survey design:

- sample design methodology,
- collection methods,
- layout and design of the questionnaire,
- questionnaire testing,
- follow-up procedures to improve response rates, and
- appropriate use and interpretation of data based on the data quality.

2014-15 SCH Review Activity

During 2014-15 the SCH received 104 surveys for review, of which 68 were reviewed and approved for collection*. A further 32 did not require our review and approval and 4 were cancelled.

Table 1: Surveys submitted to the SCH

Financial year	Surveys reviewed*	Surveys not requiring review	Cancelled surveys	Total surveys submitted
2014-15	68	32	4	104
2013-14	72	45	7	124
2012-13	82	42	5	129
2011-12	89	60	7	156

*including surveys under review.

Our Network

The SCH maintains a network of Statistical Liaison Officers (SLOs) in many Commonwealth Government departments and agencies. SLOs act as a communication point between the SCH and your survey areas.

Contact us to discuss how your organisation can benefit from having an SLO.
